

STAX INC. PROMOTES BRETT CONRADT AND JEREMY WALL TO MANAGING DIRECTOR

CHICAGO - Feb. 9, 2017 - Stax Inc., a global strategy consultancy, today announced the promotions of Brett Conradt and Jeremy Wall to Managing Directors in the firm's Chicago office.

Since joining Stax in 2006, Brett has led client engagements for Fortune 500 clients, private equity firms and their portfolio companies. Over the last decade, Brett has advised investors and chief executives on strategic decisions throughout the full lifecycle of their companies with an emphasis on organic growth, value creation, strategic M&A and commercial due diligence. With his working knowledge and deep understanding of market dynamics in the consumer/retail and industrials sectors, and the ability to help clients determine where they can best create value, Brett has developed deep relationships with leadership teams across industries.

Jeremy joined Stax in 2006, and for the past decade has served as a strategic advisor to Fortune 500 corporate clients and private equity firms on commercial due diligence, value creation and exit planning for portfolio companies. His work focuses on growth analysis, understanding shifting industry dynamics and identifying opportunities to capitalize on change, which is successfully accomplished by uncovering and leveraging new information, data and analytics. While his experience covers a range of industries, Jeremy's core focus areas are in the technology, healthcare and financial services sectors. Jeremy has led large-cap client engagements providing growth strategies and reconfiguring diligence approaches to improve efficiency and effectiveness. At Stax, he has helped identify and coach talent, building a strong team and foundation to drive future growth at the firm.

"Jeremy and Brett have forged deep relationships with their clients and are viewed by all as trusted partners and advisors," said Mark Bremer, President of Stax. "Equally important, they've dedicated countless hours mentoring our staff and fostering their development, contributing to the strength of the firm. The new roles they take on are well deserved."
